PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER

MISS MARGUERITE STAUFFACHER HONORED BY PHILATHEAS AT INGLEDUE RESIDENCE

A most happy occasion was the shower given Tuesday evening by the Philathea girls of the First Methodist Church for Miss Marguerite Stauffacher at the home of Miss Doris Ingledue, 501 East Wilson avenue.

Beautiful pink roses were used profusely for decorating the rooms where progressive games were played, and later pink and white ices and cake were served.

A messenger appeared during the evening and inquired for Miss Stauffacher, and when she appeared at the door presented her with a handsomely decorated suit case, which, upon opening, she found to contain many lovely and useful gifts to take with her to her new home. She will be married on Thursday to Hansen Roge'rs, of Dallas, Texas.

Miss Beatrice Bracewell won the prize in the progressive game played, a hand-painted plate, which she presented to the guest of honor.

Those who helped to make the affair a happy memory were: Miss Stauffacher, Miss Rogers of Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Stauffacher, Mrs. T. A. Wright, teacher of the class, Miss Margaret Lusby, Miss Helena Schwarze, Mrs. Allena McGee Powers, Miss L. Sparks, Miss Isaac, Miss Marjorie Morris, Miss Ila Brooks, Miss Beatrice Bracewell, Miss Lois Murphy, Miss Leome Shattuck, Miss Ida Potter, Miss Laura Roberts, Miss Dorothy Lee, president of the class, and Mrs. Rebecca Lacy and Miss Jennie Lacy of Los Angeles.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

The Bentley-Schoenemann Lumber Company reports that its forces are busy on a number of contracts including the following:

A four-room bungalow for Mr. Laub at the corner of Oak and Columbus avenue.

A colonial five-room house on Verdugo Road in Eagle Rock just beyond the Glendale limits for Mr. Brown, of the Henry-Brown Company, who is to be married in the near future. The contract calls for the completion of the house inside of thirty days.

Work is progressing on the Stowell residence on Flint Ridge in La Canada. That is an eight-room tile house with cement exterior, which is to be completed in July.

Work is also progressing on the studio and apartment building on Brand boulevard for Mr. and Mrs. W. P. MacMullin.

HONOR FOR GLENDALE CHURCH

At the quarterly meeting of the officers, teachers and organized class presidents of the Central Christian Church Monday night, it was announced that Pastor C. A. Cole has been importuned to again conduct the class in "Administration," at the Long Beach Convention of Southern California Christian churches to be held August 4 to 10, and Mrs Cole to teach the Junior Department. Both have accepted and it is considered quite an honor that one church in the Brotherhood should furnish two members of this Faculty. At this meeting Mrs E. H. Learned was chosen to attend the Asylomar Conference of Workers as representative of the Missionary Department of the local Sunday School.

MORE BOND CREDITS

CHAIRMAN ADVISED $650 HAS BEEN ALLOWED GLENDALE FROM RAILROADS

Mrs. Ralph Meeker, chairman of the Glendale drive for the Victory Loan, has received the gratifying news that an additional $650 has been credited to Glendale from the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads, bringing Glendale's bond sales to $236,150.

As has been announced more than once, workers in the drive were promised by the government medals made from captured German cannon. These medals can only go, however, to the workers whose names were regularly filed with the chairman of the drive and by her forwarded to the officials at Washington. It is, therefore, possible that some who did yeoman service in the sale of bonds of the last days of the drive may not have been properly registered and thus may be denied the little token of appreciation through the red tape regulations by which the chairman is forced to be governed. She has, however, filed a requisition for 100 more medals and hopes she will receive enough to recognize by the bestowal of a medal the service of every man, woman and child who worked in the drive.

TUESDAY AFT CLUB

ENTERTAINS WITH FINE PROGRAM BY MISSES MORTENSEN AND FRIEDA PEYCKE

A big audience which more than filled the auditorium of the Masonic Temple gathered Tuesday afternoon in response to the invitation of the club to mothers of soldiers or sailors whether identified with the organization or not, to come and enjoy a special program arranged for their entertainment.

It opened with charming violin numbers by Miss Modesta Mortensen of Hollywood, who was accompanied on the piano by Miss Constance Lister. Their contributions included: "Viennese Popular Song," by Fritz Kreisler; "Les Adieus" by Sarasate; and as an encore, "The Alpine Maid's Sunday," by Ole Bull.

The balance of the program was given by Miss Frieda Peycke, of Los Angeles, who not only reads charmingly, but who has composed musical settings which she plays on the piano as an accompaniment, and which, because they are inspired by her interpretation of the song or story, exactly fit. Her hearers were simply delighted with the humor and pathos of her delineations which were simple things well suited to time and place and the more artistic because there seemed such an utter absence of pose or effort, and such perfect spontaniety.

Her repertoire included "When Tulips Bloom," by Henry Van Dyke, inspired by springtime in New York which made him say:

"How much I'm wishin' to go a fishin',
In days so full of joys as these."

and Van Dyke's splendid appreciation of his own land, "America for Me." "Out Where the West Begins," by Arthur Chapman, of Denver, was another number which greatly pleased, and "The Little Weed," by Hamilton, with its sweet moralizing. Her child characterizations were especially hap-

A CENTENARY SUPPER

Members of the First Methodist Church of Glendale are opening the campaign in the Centenary Movement by a complimentary dinner to the full membership of the church which will be served by the matrons of the Ladies' Aid, this (Wednesday) evening in the banquet hall of the church. Three fine orators have been secured for after-dinner speakers, viz., Dr. J. A. Geissinger, who has been one of the leaders in the movement and who has raised for it not less than half a million dollars; Roy D. Kellogg of Pasadena, who will deliver the national prize four-minute speech for which he received a $50 Liberty Bond in the contest in which the prize was won; and Charles Carver of South Pasadena, who will tell how his church raised its quota of $35,000 in three days.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Those who are seeking a better understanding of the League of Nations are invited to come to the Masonic Temple tonight and hear Mr. Edward S. Jerome's lecture. As a student of history Mr. Jerome has few equals and at the request of many friends will give his lecture here. Mr. Jerome hails from Cincinnati, Ohio.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Bystanders watched with interest the exit of the big white fire engine in House No. 1 on Broadway about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with a trailer attached in the shape of lengths of big hose which were at once attached to a hydrant as the engine turned and ran into the driveway just west of the Pulliam Undertaking Company. There was no excitement nor clanging of bells and speculation was rife as to the purpose of the movement, but later it was found to be a real fire call. The blaze was in the small house at the rear of Mr. Pulliam's establishment and owned by him, the property facing on Louise street. It is a California house, the wooden walls and partitions being covered with paper. A gas stove had been used to prepare a mid-day meal and it is supposed a blaze was left burning which furnished enough heat to ignite the paper. In any event, the wall was found to be ablaze behind the stove in the kitchen and in the bed-room back of it. A stream from a garden hose attached to a hydrant was turned in and the fire alarm spread to the station house. The flames had attained such headway that if immediate help had not been at hand the building would almost certainly have been consumed. Bedding and other belongings in the bed-room were damaged to some extent. The house is occupied by T. W. Perry and daughter.

PROGRESS IN ORANGE COUNTY FIGHT

PLAN TO SUPPLANT PRESENT TELEPHONE WITH MUTUAL SYSTEM TO COME BEFORE MASS MEETING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Santa Ana, May 14.—Another step in the plan of the Orange County commercial organizations to supplant the present telephone system with a mutual organization was taken today when a mass meeting was called for Tuesday night.

At the meeting a committee recently appointed will report its plan for having the present telephones taken out in order to open the way for the mutual system. All telephone exchanges in the county are to have representatives at the meeting.

STRIKE OF TELEPHONE EMPLOYES

LOS ANGELES HEADQUARTERS HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF ANY SUCH CONTEMPLATED ACTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 14.—Just how the telephone operators' and electrical workers' strike called for Monday will effect Southern California was unknown here today.

C. F. Mason, superintendent of the telephone system in Southern California, declared he had no knowledge of the impending strike, either from his company or from the workers, and he added he did not believe the workers are discontented here.

"It might possibly be that the union leaders have presented their demands at our headquarters in San Francisco, and I believe any strike here would be directed or led from San Francisco," he declared. Mason said about 2,300 operators and 1,500 electrical workers are employed in Southern California.

DIRIGIBLE MAY CROSS OCEAN WITH PLANES

N-C 4 GOING DIRECT TO TREPASSEY—NAVY DIRIGIBLE ON ITS WAY TO ST. JOHNS, NEWFOUNDLAND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Chatham, Mass., May 14.—Seaplane N-C 4 started at 9:05 this morning direct for Trepassey. Weather conditions were most favorable.

Washington, May 14.—Navy dirigible C-5 left Montauk, N. Y., for St. Johns, Newfoundland, at 8 this morning. If the flight to St. Johns is successful, the navy intends to send the dirigible across the Atlantic with the seaplanes. Yesterday's sea flights proved that the dirigible is in readiness. The navy officials admitted there was a slight chance that the seaplanes now at Trepassey would wait for the dirigible and for N-C 4, the entire squadron starting for the Azores together.

Chatham, Mass., May 14.—The navy dirigible C-5 passed here at 10:10 o'clock this morning, flying at a moderate height and at the rate of forty miles an hour, in a northwesterly direction.

Washington, May 14.—Seaplane N-C 4 stopped at Halifax, arriving there at 1:10. Wireless reports said it intended to make a stay of only a few moments before proceeding to Trepassey. Commander Towers wirelessed that the weather was unfavorable for the start to the Azores and added that he expected to wait for N-C 4 and the dirigible. A new radio record was established this morning, when a message from Acting Secretary Roosevelt was sent N-C 4 from Washington and the reply received was relayed to Paris, London, Panama, San Diego and ships at sea in three minutes.

AUSTRIAN DELEGATION WANTS PEACE

CHANCELLOR RENNER DECLARED IT WOULD HAVE JOINED BALKAN FEDERATION TWO YEARS AGO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 4.—Chancellor Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation, declared in an interview today that he intends to return to Vienna "with peace ending the sufferings of our country." He also declared that two years ago Austria wanted to join the Jugo-Slavs, the Czecho-Slovaks and the Rumanians in a Balkan federation, but those nations are now the enemies of Austria, so Austria now wants union with Germany.

The "Big Four" received three new notes from the German delegation, but their nature was not disclosed.

The question of the kaiser's punishment is causing difficulty, because Belgium has refused to become the prosecutor. Both England and France have been sounded on the subject, but it is not known whether they will be willing to prosecute.

A Belgrade dispatch received today reported that a large Italian force had been landed in Dalmatia, which is marching inland and fortifying the mountain passes.

ANTI-WILSON RIOTS IN BERLIN

Berlin, May 14.—Following a meeting in front of the Reichstag, 15,000 majority Socialists staged a demonstration in front of American headquarters, shouting "down with Wilson! Down with Americans." Tumultuous scenes lasted an hour. Scheidemann forwarded to Danzig a proclamation declaring "We'll fight to the uttermost against separation by violence of any German territories."

GLENDALE WINS

COMMUNITY CHORUS SECURES HONORS AT HOLLYWOOD BY GOOD MARGIN

When the officials of the Glendale Community Sing looked over the crowd assembled at the High School at 7:15 Tuesday evening to be conveyed to the Hollywood contest, they appeared a little discouraged and expressed the fear that the Glendale delegation would not exceed fifty people, but when Hollywood High was reached it was found that the big crowd had gone ahead and that about 130 Glendale representatives were present.

The balance of the auditorium was crowded including the gallery, and to accommodate the overflow the classrooms on either side were thrown open as wings to the main room. The conductor estimated that not less than 1600 persons were present. The auditorium is narrower and much longer than that of Glendale High and is divided down the middle by an aisle. To the Glendale singers was assigned the space in front on the right hand side. On the other side were massed the singers of the Hollywood chorus and also back of the Glendalians, with a considerable number in the gallery although it appeared there were many spectators who came to hear and not to sing.

Alexander Mitchell, as president of the Glendale organization, was escorted to the platform whereon were seated the judges—Mr. Colby, Editor of Pacific Coast Music; Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, and Miss Virginia Graeffe, of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been identified with community singing in the East. Mr. Toblin, representing the business men of Hollywood, was also introduced to the audience.

In announcing the judges the explanation was given that the scores would provide 25 points for attack and release, 25 for enunciation, 25 for facial expression, and 25 for tone quality.

The contest occupied a very short period and included the singing by both choruses of a verse each of "My Old Kentucky Home," "Juanita," "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," and "The Soldier's Chorus," from Faust. In each instance after the full verse and chorus had been sung with piano accompaniment, the chorus was sung without accompaniment, and then hummed without accompaniment. During these last repetitions of the air the leader put both choruses through some sharp tests on "release," which caught a few unwary ones in each chorus and cut down the score.

It was a hard task for the judges and there was a good deal of conferring before the decision was finally announced. As a preliminary, all the judges made little complimentary

SHEAVES OF GOLDEN GRAIN

At the corner of Lomita and Central avenues there is a scene of activity that carries older residents back in their memories more than 50 years. It is a small field of wheat, rank in growth and rich golden in its ripe coloring. A portion of it has already been cut and among the stubble are standing thickly the wheat shocks, while scattered about are the heavy sheaves. The cutting is done with a very primitive tool, the scythe, which preceded the cradle and the reaper of other days. The scythe does not lay the grain in swaths as did the other implements named, but with the rake that is remedied and the grain piled into sheaves ready for binding. In California, wheat, barley and oats are generally cut like hay is in the East, so the sight of genuine sheaves and shocks of wheat is a decided novelty and farmers of other days are instantly attracted by the sight. Henry Kirkby is the owner of the grain and is doing the garnering all by himself.

SHOULD FISH IN DARK OF THE MOON?

Harry E. Hall and wife, of 121 West Harvard, are home from a ten days' fishing trip to Big Bear Lake. Quite a number of Glendale people were there for brief visits during their stay. None had great success in fishing. Mr. Hall thinks the light of the moon the wrong time for successful angling as the fish feed at night and therefore are indifferent to daylight allurements. He thinks that about the 25th will be the best time in this month for large catches. The state hatcheries keep the lakes and brooks well supplied with trout constantly and they are conserved by the strictly enforced laws against off-season fishing. The hatcheries at Sisson now contain 5,000,000 of the young trout, which will be used to restock the waters all over the state.

ANTI-TOLL ENTHUSIASM

MEN DECIDE TO FIGHT TELEPHONE COMPANY ORDER TO THE FINISH

That the citizens of Glendale are possessed of real patriotism—the kind that won the war—was brought out very clearly at the anti-telephone-toll and increased-rental meeting held under the auspices of the Greater Glendale Development Association in the auditorium of the Intermediate School Tuesday evening. There were present at this meeting many representative citizens of Glendale, Mayor Blanchard of Burbank, Mayor Wilson of Lankershim and members of the Chamber of Commerce of Burbank, also representatives from the La Crescenta-La Canada community.

In the absence of the chairman of the association, the meeting was presided over by W. B. Kirk, one of the vice-presidents, with C. D. Lusby performing his usual duties as secretary.

After the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting, Messrs. Evans, Jackson and Cowan gave reports of the meeting they attended at Santa Ana on the 9th. These gentlemen made it very clear to the audience that Orange county is thoroughly aroused on the importance of freeing themselves from the tyranny of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, and the keynote was sounded that if Glendale wishes to get good service at reasonable rates in the future the only feasible way is to follow in the footsteps of the Orange county people and unless the telephone company immediately promises relief from the tolls they have imposed to Los Angeles and Burbank that we proceed at once to organize a municipal telephone system.

The chair asked City Attorney Evans to give a brief review of the telephone situation as it now stands in Glendale and throughout the United States. Mr. Evans stated very concisely and briefly that it is the opinion of all men who have given it serious consideration that the Supreme Court will decide that Post-

COMMUNITY SINGS GAINING WIDE POPULARITY

Glendale was among the first of California's cities to adopt the Community Sing idea and it has been a source of great pleasure to all who participate and to the listeners as well. The idea is now spreading all over the country. In a little Illinois city of 2500 people, a chorus of nearly 500 voices is heard weekly, people coming in from the country to participate. The County Superintendent of Schools leads the Sing, which is held out of doors.

DEATH OF MRS. JULIA WARD LOOMIS

Mrs. Julia Ward Loomis, who made her home with a daughter, Miss Frances Loomis, teacher of English in the High School, at 317 West Broadway, died Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She had lived in Glendale only since last September, coming here from Pasadena. She had lived in California two years. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 at Forest Lawn and the body will be placed in the vault there to remain until her daughter's school term is ended when it will be taken to the old home in New York by Miss Loomis for interment. The Pulliam Undertaking Company will have charge of the services.

SING TO BE HELD AS USUAL

The Glendale Community Sing will be held as usual Thursday evening at Glendale High School, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. A special attraction has been secured for the program which can probably be announced tomorrow. The splendid work done by the chorus at Hollywood Tuesday evening by which it triumphed over the larger organization by twenty-five points, has renewed the enthusiasm of all who attended and singers who have enjoyed these gatherings in the past are urged to come out and to bring other singers and music lovers with them.

Miss Alice Prince returned last Sunday evening from Boston, Mass., accompanied by her mother. She was absent about six weeks and during that time so adjusted her business affairs there that she and Mrs. Prince will be able to make their home in Glendale with her uncle, Thomas Prince, a retired business man of San Francisco, who is now living at 475 Myrtle.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1919

THE FANGS ARE PULLED

Germany's hope for world power has been crushed, and naught remains for the once proud empire but years of toil and struggle to replace in some small degree the destruction the German people have wrought in their lust for world domination.

The peace terms they must sign are the most drastic and humiliating ever thrust upon a conquered nation by victors, but these terms are not unjust. They are probably not as severe as Germany would have forced upon the Allies had the Hohenzollerns and their hordes of baby killers been victorious.

Whatever humiliation the German people suffer by reason of being forced to sign a peace treaty that strips them of their power and acknowledges their guilt to the world, they brought upon themselves by blindly following the lead of their kaiser as long as there was any hope of victory. When the hour of defeat came they deserted him in an effort to save what they could from the wreckage.

While William Hohenzollern stands convicted before the world, those who blindly followed him are guilty of being accessories to the crime. They must suffer—not as they made others suffer, because the Allies are too humane to inflict such tortures upon them—but they must give up much of their possessions, and also they must toil to repay somewhat of the loss they caused to those whom they would destroy.

And best of all, the German war machine is a complete wreck and it cannot be rebuilt. Ample provision is made in the treaty to protect the world against the menace of German militarism.

Germany winces at the terms imposed and threatens not to sign the peace pact. These threats are not worrying the Allies, because Germany is in no condition to begin another war. After a certain amount of bluffing, followed by cringing and begging for mercy, Germany will probably accept the treaty and begin to pay for its folly.—South Pasadena Record.

FAKERS IN UNIFORM

The generosity of citizens and municipalities in providing entertainment and help for returned soldiers is still being taken advantage of by grafters who parade around n uniform and show service stripes and war chevrons they never earned and are not entitled to wear. Many of these imposters have been rounded up, but there are still a number who impose upon the confidence and kindness of generous people.

Nearly 300 imposters have already been caught by the police of New York City. Some of the imposters have posed as commissioned officers, and persons not familiar with military matters have been easily imposed upon.

Every effort should be made to run down such grafters, as they cast discredit upon honorable men who deserve and may need a helping hand. Some of the imposters tell most wonderful stories of how many Germans they killed and captured and how many times they were the first over the top, when the only trench they ever saw was one dug in the streets of New York City or some other place at home.

Another swindle some men in uniform have engaged in is in selling tickets for bogus raffles, dances, etc. In Newark, N. J., last week citizens were buying tickets for an alleged benefit for Army General Hospital No. 3 at Colonia, N. J.

Colonel Arthur Woods, U. S. A., special assistant to the Secretary of War, in order to protect the vast majority of men in uniform, who are conducting themselves with every evidence of self-respect, has written a letter to the chiefs of police of every city in the country, asking their co-operation in the fight against the peddler, panhandler and street faker. Colonel Woods says that 80 per cent of the men now discharged are going straight home. Of the 20 per cent who remain in big cities, he says, only a small proportion engage in peddling for others, in panhandling or street faking. These practices are in violation of the federal statutes protecting the American uniform from abuse, Colonel Woods adds.

TO HAVE BUDGET SYSTEM AT LAST

It was long cited as a reproach to the church that its business affairs were conducted so loosely that an expert accountant could hardly figure out its financial condition at the end of the year. This state of affairs prevails no longer except in a few isolated cases, for the modern church prepares its yearly budget regularly with great care, balancing expenditures with probable receipts. But it seems that your Uncle Samuel is still in the benighted condition that the churches used to be. He has absolutely no budget system and it is stated as an absolute fact that ten billions more money for war purposes than could be used were demanded by the cabinet. The Republicans in Congress have already set on foot plans for a budget to be prepared each year, which system, when perfected, will forever prevent such orgies of money wasting as were indulged in last year and the year before. Most European nations and all of England's large colonies, such as Canada and Australia, have practiced the budget plan for many years.

CUBA DEVELOPS INTO "ISLE OF PROSPERITY"

The beneficent effect of the protectorate extended over the Island of Cuba is graphically shown by a pamphlet recently issued by the Mercantile Bank of the Americas, at New York. Since Cuba ceased to be an inconsequential dependency of Spain, from which it emerged as the consequence of the Spanish-American War, conditions have been greatly improved, and according to this authority it has prospered more than any other country as the result of the European war.

The island increased its exports in the year 1917 to over $350,000,000, and at the same time its imports doubled its former purchases. The statistics for the year 1918 have not yet been fully compiled, but the work is sufficiently advanced to warrant the estimate that the exports would reach the sum of $375,000,000, which represented the island's purchasing power for that year. It is now confidently predicted that the export mark for 1919 will total at least $400,000,000.

In this connection it should be remembered that the population of the island of Cuba, all told, is less than 3,000,000. The estimate for the year 1918 would give an export average for the year of $125 per capita. On this basis it is figured that the per capita exports from Cuba were at least double those of the United States. The advantage of the friendly connection of Cuba with the United States is by no means one-sided, as Cuba now spends an average of $225,000,000 for commodities in the United States.

The advantages of the United States protectorate are not alone financial. For years before the Spanish-American War Havana was one of the breeding places of yellow fever, which was more or less prevalent in all of the seacoast towns of the island. During the actual American occupation the city and harbor of Havana were placed in a sanitary condition; and the island began the era of prosperity which has now given it the merited title of the isle of prosperity.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND DISINTERESTEDNESS

In Paul Leicester Ford's typical American novel, "The Honorable Peter Stirling," said to have been inspired by the life of Grover Cleveland, he causes one character, a shrewd political boss, to say of a particularly disreputable politician: "Stephen Maguire understands everything but honesty. You can always beat him with that." And because this great American nation has always dealt in perfect honesty with other countries, the nations of the Old World, used for centuries to consider lying and over-reaching perfectly legitimate in dealing with each other, could never understand us. It was incomprehensible to them that a great country like the United States could enter any contest without an ulterior motive; that there must always be a concealed purpose or a quid pro quo. They were lost in amazement when, with Mexico prostrate at our feet, we paid $15,000,00 for territory any European nation would have appropriated as the legitimate spoil of conquest; when we gave Spain $20,000,000 for the conquered Philippines and demanded nothing for the blood and treasure expended in this altruistic war; and when we threw ourselves whole-heartedly into the late struggle against intrenched greed and brutality without demanding, by secret treaty or openly, territorial concessions in case of victory. From their point of view we should have demanded of England the annexation of Canada, or from France some great territorial concession, following Italy's course in demanding from the Allies large slices of territory east of the Adiratic. But we demanded nothing, and Old World opinion is divided between admiration for our disinterestedness and contempt for our being "so easy."

A WRONG STATE OF AFFAIRS

Many public corporations employ expert legal talent to devise methods for deceiving their patrons, the general public. An equitable franchise is granted a public utility and the public is safeguarded by its provisions. By and by some slight change is suggested as a measure of expediency, with a verbal promise, possibly, of compensation. Sometimes a threat to withdraw an absolutely necessary service is made to secure concessions. These changes are made so gradually and so insidiously that city authorities are completely hoodwinked by wily methods of paid sharpers in legal procedure. It is a deplorable state of affairs when it is necessary to always be on the lookout for legal chicanery.

ENGLISH WRITER SEES SENTIMENTAL AMERICA

Philip Gibbs, the English war correspondent, who has been lecturing in this country, says that Americans are not so materialistic and hard-headed as they think they are. "In any public gathering, at any private dinner table," he says, "the idealist takes all the applause and can express his sentiment with a simplicity and emotion which would cause a smile or an ironical shrug in the sophisticated cities of England or France." Mr. Gibbs gives other illustrations to show that though we want to be tough and brutal and many of us look that way, inside we are soft and palpitating and good.

This is a kind of reverse hypocrisy, similar to that practiced by the adorable Mr. Boffin in Dickens' novel. It seems preferable to the European way of sneering at sentiment. Emotion is not the worst thing in the world. Perhaps it does us good to thrill at platitudes. An audience that has wept with joy while the prize two-year-old in the moving pictures reconciled her estranged papa and mamma is temporarily good and noble, and that is so much gained.

And our sentimentality does not all evaporate into nothing. It was not that entirely that got us into the war with Germany, but it was that which made many an American fight willingly who cared nothing about practical statesmanship.—San Francisco Call.

HOME FOLK FED ON "LEFTINGS"

It is the common complaint in California, and it seems well founded, that the residents of the state take merely the leavings of our many wonderful products. The best of the oranges, lemons, melons, fruit and "garden truck" is shipped East and we use the remainder. For months, lettuce, which is used in most California homes every day in the year, was almost unobtainable, a head as small as a child's fist selling for 5c, while thousands of crates of big, fine heads went to supply the tables of wealthy Easterners. The condition is greatly improved of late, two and three large heads being sold for 5 cents by our Glendale stores. California is fast becoming the truck garden of the nation during the winter and spring, with some of the southern states aiding slightly.

WAGES LOWER, BUT SO ARE FOOD PRICES

Two young ladies, who recently came to California from Chicago to spend the summer, frequently visit Glendale acquaintances, though located in Los Angeles. One of the young ladies is an expert stenographer and typist and has been endeavoring to secure work for at least a part of the time. Her inquiries developed the fact, she declared, that wages are lower for such work in California, but as a compensation she finds that food prices also are very much lower than in the East. So she thinks the account is pretty well balanced.

The way to win the fight that is now going on against the Pacific Telephone Company is for telephone users to unite and work together in making the fight as did the Allied Nations when making the fight against Prussian Imperialism. Propaganda in the interests of the telephone company is now being quietly circulated. Beware of it.

master Burleson has not the rate-fixing power. He explained his reason for this opinion by stating that when the government took over the telephone and telegraph utilities it was not the intention of the President of the United States or of Congress to take the rate-fixing power away from the respective states, and that judges of the lower courts who have rendered decisions in the case have so decided, and it is only fair to presume that the judge of the Supreme Court will corroborate this opinion. Mr. Evans was asked whether subscribers should pay the full amount of the increased bill or how they should proceed to settle their May bills. He answered by saying that some municipalities were advising the people to send a check for the old amount of rental to the Railroad Commission asking that body to settle the account for them. He added that the Railroad Commission had already instructed the telephone companies to keep an exact account of all additional money paid in by subscribers on account of increased exchange charges that in case of a decision against them they would be in a position to return the money to the subscribers. It seemed to be the opinion of the majority present that the plan of withholding the payment of the bills until the latter part of the month would be a good plan to follow as it will likely be known at that time what decision the Supreme Court has made as to Burleson's right to fix rates.

Captain D. Ripley Jackson of the committee for getting protest signers to the telephone charge order reported that more than 1500 had signed up and many others were waiting a chance to sign. He said it was the desire of the people whom he had consulted to do without phones before they would be mistreated by the present telephone company. Mr. Jackson's remarks proved that he is in the fight to the finish. He announced that books for the receiving of anti-telephone-toll signatures may be found at Roberts & Echols drug store, the Monarch Co., Glendale Plant & Floral Company, Dr. Steelman's office, Glendale Savings Bank, and in front of the Palace Grand Theatre every evening.

F. V. Owen, chairman of the committee on municipal telephone system, reported that his committee had presented the matter before the Board of Trustees who had acted on the question very favorably. It was the opinion of Mr. Owen that if the telephone company persists in their present arbitrary methods in charging toll to Los Angeles and increasing rates that the only feasible way is for the citizens of Glendale to install a municipal telephone system. Mr. Owen explained that the modern telephone instruments in use in the East by other companies than the Bell are much better instruments and with a municipal system run without profit it would be possible to get rates at about one-half what is charged at present. He suggested that Glendale is favorably situated for operating her own telephone system on account of having poles and conduits now in place and used by the municipal electric lighting plant.

W. D. Salisbury of the Burd Cookie Company, who resides in La Crescenta, reported that he had canvassed the La Crescenta and La Canada valleys and of the total number of fifty-five phone subscribers forty-eight had ordered their phones out.

Prof. Harrigan, president of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce, made very pointed statements on the question of telephone toll charges and stated that Burbank is ready to co-operate with Glendale in all particulars. His remarks were approved by Mayor Blanchard. Other Burbank men spoke very emphatically in favor of not giving up to the unreasonable demands of the telephone company.

A motion prevailed endorsing the work of the committee which is receiving anti-toll, anti-exchange charge signatures with a request that all citizens act promptly in rendering aid to this committee.

It was the sentiment of those present that there is a principle at stake on this telephone toll order and increased exchange charge deserving the attention of every red-blooded American and the sooner communities join with one another in suppressing the unwarranted action of a heartless corporation such as the one in question the better it will be for our country.

py and included "Chums" and "A Rainy Night" by James W. Foley; "Ma Li'l Bit a Sistah," by Elizabeth Gordon, of Chicago, and her "Everyday Thoughts" about the things that are broken one day getting mended the next as a text for the philosophy of life; "What the Boy Said," by Inez Tribet, of Los Angeles; "Sister Mary Ann," by Guiterman—which, by the way, was especially clever.

Following the program light refreshments were served.

In recognition of "Mothers' Day," the floral decorations were confined to white carnations, but plenty of gay color was furnished by big splendid flags of our own country and of the Allies.

Previous to the program a business session was held at which the club voted to undertake the support of a Belgian or a French baby for one year. The nominating committee, of which Mrs. E. D. Yard was chairman, submitted the following slate of officers for the coming year to be voted upon at the next regular meeting:

President, Mrs. A. W. Tower.

First Vice-President, Mrs. Charles Temple.

Second Vice-President, Mrs. Freeman Kelley.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Harry Duffield.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Andrew Findlay.

Treasurer, Mrs. John Robert White.

Directors, Mrs. E. W. Kinney and Mrs. A. A. Burton.

THE SENSE OF HUMOR

One of our good friends, a lady tall and very thin, exceptionally so, tackled a Mr. Murphy about his horse in her home town, not far from Boston. "Mr Murphy," she said, "your horse is poor. If you don't feed him better I shall complain of you." "Miss B——, I do feed the horse, he gets nine quarts of oats a day and plenty of hay." "I don't believe you. Any creature that got enough to eat would look plump and fat." "Well thin, Miss B——,it's mighty little ye're after gettin' yerself." That ended the conversation, but we saw that Mr. Murphy lived up to his reported ration for his horse.

BOON TO CABBAGE EATERS

The master shipbuilder, Charles M. Schwab, was discussing the trend of the times with a friend, who remarked: "Do you follow the food regulations, Charlie, or are they meant for only the little fellow?"

Schwab laughed. "To tell the truth," he said, "the food savings policy has been a great thing for me. Now I can go into a restaurant and order corned beef and cabbage right out loud, and nobody thinks anything of it."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

SUNLAND

Mr. Delap, the new forest ranger, and his mother, are nicely located in the Ranger Station on Summit Ave.

Mr. Hood's brother arrived home from France, where he served in the 164th Field Artillery. He will help his brother on the ranch this summer.

Mrs. McNab is expecting her brother from the north to come and make his home with her and help care for the ranch.

Quite extensive plans are being made for the summer resort in the Rowley Grove. There is to be a dance pavilion, eating house and other attractions. Mr. Schenette is at the head of the move.

Miss Cornelia Herron returned from Los Angeles Saturday, where she had been spending the past week.

Mr. Frank Ybarra has taken out his hedge at the corner of Sherman and Summit. Mr. Horton is also going to take his out as the corner was not safe for machines as the road was so hidden by the hedge. It will make it much better and safer for the traveling public.

There will be a Highway Bond election held in the Sunland precinct in July.

Mrs. Huse is having a fruit house put up on her place on Summit Ave., where she will handle all kinds of the choice Sunland fruit.

LA CRESCENTA

Buy War Savings Stamps. They are Baby Bonds.

Mrs. H. E. Bruce entertained Prof. and Mrs. Miller at luncheon on Wednesday.

Thrift Stamps lead by easy stages to War Savings Stamps. They cost two bits and are on sale at the postoffice. Get a 1919 book.

Mrs. H. S. Bissell gave a tea on Thursday to a number of Pasadena guests at the Hi Up Ranch.

Mrs. MacIntosh (Mrs. Voelker that was) has rented her La Crescenta place, so has Miss Coshow on Mayfield avenue. The Dickinson place is also leased and the renters are many and the houses are few. There is an opening right here for some one to put up a nice lot of little houses for renting and to make a good investment that will bring adequate returns.

Picture show next Friday, the 16th, "Doraldina" with Moreno. This is a great big, classy show and there will be a comedy for the little ones and "Mickey" is coming, too. Booked for June. The Civic Committee is going to give the people some wonderful shows for the small price of admission and they should respond most heartily. It's a 25-cent show for 10 cents. Don't miss any of them.

A letter was received by Mrs. S. B. Young from her son, Claxton, stating he was sailing from Mare Island for Asiatic waters May 5th.

Those of us who knew Belle Wiles who sang for us at several of the vaudevilles will be pleased to learn that she is married and living in Denver.

Mrs. B. F. Miller has purchased part of Mr. Wetherbee's acreage next to her lots for added space for her goats.

Cruelty and selfishness are always in business together—two partners who never quarrel.

Ignorance and indifference are somewhat better looking than cruelty, but they belong to the same family.

The proper means of increasing the love we bear our native country is to reside some time in a foreign one.—Shenstone.

speeches in which they confessed to a secret leaning towards Glendale, but when the decision was finally announced by Mr. Colby it left the audience in some doubt. He stated that the first count of points gave victory to Hollywood, whereupon Glendale singers applauded, but, he added, it was then discovered that certain points had been reckoned in twice, and when eliminated Glendale was found to be the winner by a very narrow margin. Hollywood vocalists then cheered when Glendale received final honors. It seemed clear that there was no great margin of difference on either side, according to Mr. Colby's report.

Later it was learned from one who had examined the scores that Glendale had won by 25 points, whereas the Hollywood award given by three disinterested judges was secured on three points in excess of our local chorus. In explanation of the announcement made by Mr. Colby which left the matter in apparent uncertainty, the statement was made that his first intimation that Hollywood had secured the laurels was intended as a joke.

A fine spirit of good humor, enjoyment and fellowship characterized the entire session and whichever way the laurels might have been bestowed would have been satisfactory.

Following the announcement Mr. Mitchell asked the Glendale singers to give three cheers and a tiger for Hollywood and for Mr. Kirchoffer. They were given with a will and then Hollywood responded in kind with cheers which nearly raised the roof.

Miss Graeffe paid a tribute to the accompanists of the evening, Mrs. Hagood and Miss Jacobson, saying: "To accompany well is such an art that it is differentiated in music as something almost supreme, something it is difficult to do well," and responding to her sentiments the big audience applauded the ladies who have contributed so much to the success of the chorus work.

Following the contest the following delightful program was given by Miss Margaret McKee, the whistler: "At Dawning," by Cadman; "Sunlight" and "Seabird Raptures," by Edwin Snyder. She graciously responded to applause with a beautiful encore number and then, yielding to a special request, gave "The Mocking Bird."

Mrs. Bond was then called for and though she had not expected to contribute, gave in her inimitable, charming way, one of her "My Old Man" poems, which, as usual, delighted everyone who heard it.

Before the audience adjourned Mr. Mitchell suggested that since both Hollywood and Glendale had won honors, a contest to a finish be now arranged in some neutral place where the courtesies of the entertainer and the entertained would not enter into the affair.

The altogether delightful evening closed with a splendid rendition of "Star Spangled Banner" by the united choruses, and on the way home some who have not been regular attendants on the "Sing" expressed regret over what they have missed and announced that they intend to take in all the remaining sessions.

DARWIN AND THE MULE

Charles Darwin, the distinguished scientist, paid this fine, and just, tribute to the too often maligned mule:

"He always appears to be a most surprising animal. That a hybrid should possess more reason, memory, obstinacy, social affection, and powers of muscular endurance than either of its parents seems to indicate that art has here outmastered nature."

This testimony is supported by all the intelligent men we have ever met who really knew the mule.

CARESSING THE HORSE

Kind treatment causes a horse to do well, because thereby he expects to be well treated, says R. S. Timmis in "Modern Horse Management." In countries like Arabia the horse is looked up to by everybody, because they love the horse. The horse is of greater value to its owner if he is a friend to him, therefore at all times the owner should treat his horse with the utmost justice.

The horse is particularly susceptible to receiving and appreciating caresses unless he is very frightened or in a bad temper. The best place to pat a horse is on his neck; the patting must not be done hard enough to hurt the horse and yet not soft enough to tickle him. The horse likes being stroked or rubbed better than being patted, as this more resembles the way his mother licked him on the neck and around the head when he was a foal. The best place to rub a horse is on the top of the head, unless he has been injured in this part; some horses seem to prefer being rubbed just above the eyes.

If a horse does not show pleasure at being caressed it means that he is either frightened or in a bad temper, and he must therefore not be trusted for a while. Caressing is a most valuable aid to our being able to gain a horse's good will and affection; therefore in training him its full use must never be forgotten. It must also be remembered that it can be overdone, and that a horse can easily be spoiled. He should be treated like a child—kindly but strictly.—Dumb Animals.

"My boy," said a father to his son, "treat everybody with politeness, even those who are rude to you; for remember that you show courtesy to others, not because they are gentlemen, but because you are one."
